Art Unit: 1745

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-18 and 35-47 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-47 of U.S. Patent No. 6,326,101. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the present application sets forth two pairs of opposing walls while the patent sets forth a front wall/back wall and a pair of opposing walls. Such designations of the walls in the housing between the present application and the indicated patent would have been obvious in view of one another because the two are obvious variants of the same elements. It would have been obvious to substitute one for the other.

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Anthony, III et al. and Clowers both disclose various battery packs attached to a power tool with latches.

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art of record does not teach the limitations of claim 1 wherein a number of cells in a first plane are less than a number of cells disposed in a second plane, the first plane passing through the latches while the second plane passes through other portions of the pack. Also the limitations of claim 35 are not shown by the prior art of record, which features include the different distances along the periphery of the battery pack

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
